2011 Celebration Program Guide

Ad Specifications:

PREPARING A “PRESS-READY” AD FOR PRINTING:

To be considered press-ready all files MUST be Macintosh compatible and follow these guidelines:

- Create your ad at 100% actual size that it will be printed.
- Supply hard copy laser output at 100%. This is to see if your digital file is missing any type or graphics.
- Save all 4-Color ads as CMYK (not as RGB).
- Save all Black and White ads using 100% black, or grayscale. (Do NOT use 4-color black, or a mixture of CMY).
- When sending PDF files, always EMBED ALL FONTS in your documents.
- When saving PDF files, ALWAYS use the press-ready settings available in each application.
- For native files, All fonts MUST be Mac-Compatible fonts.
- Some applications allow you to convert to outlines, this is a good alternative instead of sending fonts.
- Black text must be set to overprint when placed over a light background color.
- When sending native files, ALWAYS send all attached graphic files plus all screen and printer fonts.

IMAGES:

- Prepare GRAPHIC FILES depending on how they are to be used:
 - 4-color images must be 300 dpi
 - Grayscale or black and white must be 200 dpi.
- Save all images as .TIF or .EPS formats.
- Color images should be CMYK, never as RGB.
- Black and white images must GRAYSCALE or Bitmap, never as RGB
- Do not use images from the internet, these are 72 dpi RGB files and will reproduce poorly.
- Do not send faxes, copies, or web art, as final art, as they will result in substandard artwork.
